SHERRY DOWD, County Clerk
NAVARRO COUNTY, TEXAS
BY _____ DEPUTY

April 21, 2020

Whereas, In the past week Governor Greg Abbott indicated in his address, and his Executive order, that certain changes in the restrictions on retail sales will take effect Friday, April 24, 2020 at 12:01 am and,

Whereas, The Navarro County Judge H. M. Davenport, Jr. does hereby modify restrictions on the Declaration of a Local State of Disaster approved by Navarro Commissioners Court on April 13, 2020 to reflect the changes indicated in the Governor's Executive Order.

Therefore, Beginning on Friday, April 24, 2020, at 12:01 a.m., retail business establishments can operate on a "Retail to Go" platform. This means that transactions can occur with point of sale and merchandise delivery using curbside pick-up, home delivery, or delivery by mail in strict compliance with the terms required by the Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS). DSHS requirements may be found at www.dshs.texas.gov/coronavirus.

The list below provides guidance for Employers, Employees, and Customers of Reopened Retail Services. Stores may not be open to the public.

Businesses are encouraged to utilize online and electronic payment methods and avoid any face-to-face interactions with customers. Methods of delivery or pick-up should be instituted to limit contact with the customer. If contact with the customer is unavoidable then masks should be worn by both seller and customer, and hand-washing and appropriate decontamination efforts should follow. Social distancing should continue to be followed in as much as is possible!

Everyone should to take personal responsibility to take the appropriate precautions to sufficiently protect yourself and others. Citizens should limit personal contact and use personal protective equipment, such as masks, as much as possible.

Businesses that may operate on a "Retail to Go" platform include:

- Florists
